OFFICE ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. This invention application contains claims directed to four patentably distinct species:
Group A (1-4, 7-16): A method of providing channels/trenches on a die [class 438, subclass 654];
Group B (5-6, 17-32): A method of forming a cooling system of IC device [class 438, subclass 21].

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Applicant must choose one species from each of Groups A thru B, because of:

Group B compared to Group A: The method of forming a cooling system of an IC device, in Group B, claims not only a cooling system having inlet and outlet reservoirs but also a barrier defining an interior region. Those features are silent in Group A, which claims in this case a method of providing trenches on a die using a sacrificial layer and a metal seed layer over a substrate.

2. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a)

3. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in.
